

Commercial Fishing Vessels

Within the Ocean Marine segment is an important category, commercial fishing. This industry in Canada represents one of the greatest opportunities on both the east and west coasts.

Our priority is to protect the financial interest of the customer. A top notch insurance policy, with a properly maintained vessel and competent captain and crew are a winning combination to achieve success.

Eagle understands that no two commercial fishing vessels or captains are the same and the differences can be rather prominent. Being able to identify those unique risks we can provide tailored solutions that the business and their operator might encounter.
